ROOSEVELT SUGGESTS GERMANY AND POLAND ARBITRATE ON ISSUE

Sends Peace Message to Leaders of Two Powers Outlining Three Methods for Avoiding War—Earlier Note to Rome Received With Silence—Opposes Military Conquest

BERLIN, Aug. 25 (Friday) (P).—Government spokesmen who could be reached in the early morning hours said today they did not know whether President Roosevelt's peace appeal had already reached Adolf Hitler. The indifferent tone with which they received the news spoke almost louder than words. The spokesmen professed complete ignorance of the message and therefore declined to comment.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (P).—President Roosevelt addressed tonight appeals for peace to Adolf Hitler and President Moscicki of Poland, suggesting three methods for avoiding war.

These were:
1.—By direct negotiation.
2.—By submission of their controversy to impartial arbitration.
3.—Agreement to adopt the procedure of conciliation, selection of conciliator or mediator.

This was President Roosevelt's second appeal of the day, his first having been addressed to King Vittorio Emmanuel of Italy.

NOT ANOTHER MUNICH
President Roosevelt's secretary, Stephen T. Early, pointed out that the President did not have in mind another "Munich," since in his message to the President of Poland and Adolf Hitler he said:

"Both Poland and Germany being sovereign Governments, it is understood, of course, that upon resort to any one of the alternatives I suggest, each nation will agree to accord complete respect to the independence and territorial integrity of the other."

This was the fourth appeal for peace President Roosevelt has sent to Adolf Hitler in less than one year, the first two having been at the time of the Czechoslovakian crisis last September, and the third on April 14.

Mr. Roosevelt suggested to the

JAPAN RETURNS TO ISOLATION

Tokio Press Agrees Anti-Comintern Pact Now Actually Dead

TOKIO, Aug. 25 (P).—The Japanese press hinted strongly today that Premier Baron Kichiro Kira-numa would resign shortly because of recent reversals in foreign policy.

The newspaper Asahi said that Kira-numa "as the highest man assuming responsibility for conduct of the cabinet has made an important decision."

The newspaper said efforts would be made to fulfill the Premier's wish "without affecting the domestic unity of the people."

Execution of the Premier's decision, which Asahi called "absolutely immutable," may take place Saturday or next week, it was said.

Asahi expressed little doubt that the cabinet would agree today to restoration of Japan to a policy of isolation. In fact such an agreement was reported already reached in individual conferences among Kira-numa and his key Ministers.

Simultaneously, the press took a sharper attitude toward Germany as a result of her non-aggression pact with Soviet Russia. The newspapers virtually agreed that the Anti-Comintern Pact binding Tokyo to Berlin and Rome was actually dead.

Expecting Heavy Run Of Salmon

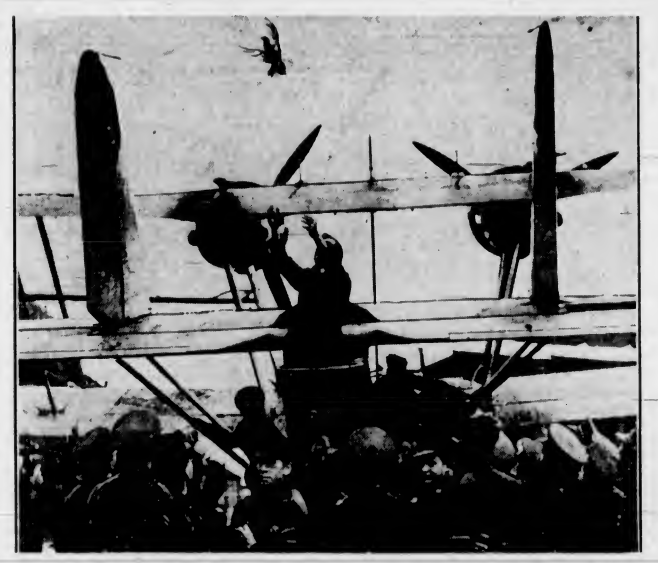

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 24 (P).—Federal Fishery Department officials and fishermen today said a heavy run of sockeye salmon could be expected in the Fraser River within a week.

Fishermen are now receiving five cents for pink salmon here, but R. W. MacLeod, fisheries supervisor said that should war break out in Europe the price would shoot upward for both fishermen and canners. He said he believed that in case of war, pink salmon would command about $2 each.

Hitler Remains Silent After Conference With High Military Officers

Political Observers in Berlin Believe German Leader Will Take "Police Action" in Poland Before Sunday—Chamberlain's Speech Is Considered "Purely Negative"

BERLIN, Aug. 25 (Friday) (P).—Adolf Hitler and his most trusted advisers deliberated early today on his asserted right to a free hand in Eastern Europe in light of Germany's consultation and non-aggression pact with Soviet Russia and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech to the British House of Commons. In authoritative quarters, Chamberlain's speech was pronounced "purely negative."

Only the ministers most directly involved surrounded Hitler at the conference, which went into the early hours of the morning. They included among others Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels and Rudolf Hess, Hitler's deputy party leader.

High military officers also were present.

WHAT MIGHT HAPPEN
It was considered most unlikely that an official communique would be issued. Men, however, who were in constant touch with the Chancellor, presented the following picture:

1. Albert Forster, now the chief executive of the baby State of Danzig, can do two things—First, declare that Danzig considers itself part of the Reich; second, ask that this latest acquisition to the Reich be recognized as to where Lepke was taken, early protected in view of the asserted

CARPENTER IS ARMY'S CHOICE

Canadian Elected as Commander to Succeed Gen. Evangeline Booth

LONDON, Aug. 24 (P).—A member of the Salvation Army for forty-eight years, Commissioner George L. Carpenter, of Canada, today elected his successor to succeed General Evangeline Booth, retiring because of the age limit.

Commissioner Carpenter received thirty-five of the final votes of the fifty-one members of the Army High Council. Votes for the other candidates were as follows: Commissioner Katherine Bramwell Booth, of England, eight; Lieut.-Commissioner Albert Osborne, of Scotland and Ireland, six; Lieut.-Commissioner William Dalziel, of Eastern Australia and Commissioner Benjamin Graham, of the Western United States, also were nominated. There were two blank ballots.

The new commander had made his home and headquarters in Toronto since his appointment as territorial commander for Canada. Canadian Army circles were taken by surprise at the announcement.

In Toronto, Col. George W. Peacock, chief secretary for Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda and Alaska said: "In this case we are sure the office sought the man—he did not expect the appointment or try to influence the selection in any way."

BRITAIN FACING PERILS OF WAR APPROVES EMERGENCY MEASURES

British Government Given Cloak of Authority by Parliament Following Speech by Prime Minister—Chamberlain and Halifax Appeal to Hitler to Settle Without Conflict

Premier Tells Hushed House Fate of World in Balance

LONDON, Aug. 24 (P).—Emergency legislation, vesting the British Government with wide and flexible power to deal with any contingency, was rushed through both Houses of Parliament tonight a few hours after Prime Minister Chamberlain told a hushed Commons that Great Britain stood in imminent peril of war. While Europe, armed and ready for all emergencies, mobilized an estimated 11,000,000 men, Mr. Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax asked Fuehrer Hitler to settle his dispute with Poland by negotiation and consultation.

At the same time they gave the Reich leader an unmistakable warning that Great Britain was united and determined to honor her pledge to Poland.

POLAND SEES CLIMAX NEAR

War-Threatened Nation May Warn Others of Limit of Forbearance

WARSAW, Aug. 24 (P).—A sharp definition of Poland's "limit of forbearance" was believed in some quarters to be under consideration tonight as this war-threatened nation of 35,000,000 made itself ready for all emergencies.

Some reports envisaged a possible sharp warning from Poland to the Nazi-dominated Free City of Danzig—a warning which would state clearly and concisely what would be considered "unacceptable violation" of Polish rights.

There was a conviction in Polish circles generally that the climax of the European drama was being reached.

There was no confirmation here of reports Foreign Minister Joseph Beck had been invited to Berchtesgaden by Fuehrer Hitler, and it was generally held the Polish Minister would not consider such an invitation.

Polish opinion, it was pointed out, would regard such a move as tantamount to yielding, and too reminiscent of the German procedure toward Austria and Czechoslovakia.

There were conferences today between Beck, the British Ambassador, Sir Howard Kennard, and the French Ambassador, Leon Noel, at which it was believed, the position of the moment was definitely established.

STRENGTHENS FRONTIER
Meanwhile Poland determinedly continued to strengthen her frontiers and to improve the mobility and efficiency of her large army.

The Polish press emphasized Poland's unwavering determination to defend her rights and territory, regardless of consequences.

"Poland is ready," declared a typical newspaper headline. "We answer with contempt the bluff of Hitler. Any invasion will be met with guns."

Important to Poland was whether Polish customs rights would be interfered with by the newly proclaimed change in the VANCOUVER, Aug. 24 (P).—Lawrence Frolic, about twenty-one, was killed here today when crushed in a yeast-mixing machine at the Burnside Wholesale Grocery plant, where he was employed.

James Brewerton, another employee, said Frolic's hands became entangled in the mixer, drawing him into the hopper-shaped machine.

EVERY STEP IS WELL STUDIED

All Parts of British Empire Equally Interested With Mother Country

LONDON, Aug. 24 (P).—Dispatches pouring into the Empire capital from Dominions and Colonies tonight indicated that every step being taken by Great Britain is being solemnly weighed and studied overseas.

Outlying parts of the Empire are taking as serious a view of the situation as the Mother Country, the dispatches showed, and Prime Minister Chamberlain took cognizance of this when he said in the House of Commons today:

"Our minds are turned towards the Dominions, and I appreciate very warmly the pronouncements made by ministers in other parts of the Commonwealth dispatches told Londoners that Prime Minister Mackenzie King has asked his cabinet ministers to remain in the Canadian capital until further notice, and to be ready for a meeting of the Government at any time in the light of the European crisis."

The Department of Defence in South Africa is watching the European situation closely, but so far there has been no suggestion of mobilizing forces. This could be done within a few hours, if necessary, officials said.

CAPE MAY, N.J., Aug. 24 (P).—United States coast guardmen with rifles climbed aboard the Ss. Amazon six miles southeast of here today and shot a lion that had broken loose from a cargo of wild animals bound for Venezuela and was terrorizing the ship's crew.

In response to a wireless plea for help, seven men, armed with two sub-machine guns and 30-caliber rifles, left the coast guard boat CD-159 shortly after noon.

Two hours later the ship wireless that the lion was dead and "many thanks for your help."

London Preparing To Face Worst; To Move Children Out

Start Shifting Patients From Hospital to Make Room for War Casualties—Obstructions Placed At Ports—Guns Are Manned in Parks

LONDON, Aug. 24.—London's millions went to bed to-night with the peace of Europe hanging by a slender thread while their city assumed all outward appearances of being prepared for anything. Street lights were dimmed while buses poked through winding streets without headlights. Inside houses and office buildings opaque cloth hung over windows. On the streets men and women huddled in small groups with grim-set faces.

London didn't laugh much tonight. A start was made at evacuating patients from Saint Bartholomew's Hospital as part of a general scheme to free beds in city hospitals for war casualties. School children were being sent to safe places in the country while Government agencies advised everyone "remember your gas mask."

The stock exchange applied restrictions on dealings in Government and public securities. The bank rate doubled from 2 to 4 per cent.

While a gang of workmen started packing priceless art treasures in museums and galleries for dispersal throughout the country, Post Office Department officials asked people to use their telephones as little as possible because of the heavy demand on all lines for urgent official calls. causes for complaint, she should not make a settlement "a hundred times more difficult" by working up tension but should "let them be fairly brought to cool examination before the public opinion of the world."

DENIES CHARGES
Mr. Chamberlain denied that Great Britain's recent military activity amounts to an "act of menace," or that Britain seeks "a special privilege" in Eastern Europe. "We do not think of asking Germany to sacrifice her national interests," he said, "but we cannot agree that national interests can only be secured by the shedding of blood or the destruction of the independence of other states."

He said that Hitler, in a communication received in London today, had advised Britain not to interfere with Germany's activity in Eastern Europe but he declined to comment on this communication "because of the delicacy of the situation."

Near the end of his speech the Prime Minister controlled his emotion with difficulty.

After restating the fundamentals of British foreign policy, he said: "It is our duty to find the way to peace—and God knows I have tried my best—if in spite of all that, we find ourselves forced to embark upon a struggle which is bound to be fraught with suffering and misery for all mankind and the end of which no man can see, if that should happen we shall not be fighting for the political future of a far away city in a foreign land; we shall be fighting for the preservation of those principles of which we have spoken, the destruction of which would involve the destruction of all possibility of peace and security for the people of the world."

A UNITED NATION
The House gave him a great cheer for this, and again when he said: "I believe that we in this House of Commons will stand together and that... we shall show the world that we think so shall we fight, as a united nation."

Mr. Chamberlain was pale as he spoke and his voice seldom rose above a conversational tone. As he neared the end of his speech he said: "Naturally our minds are turned towards the Dominions and I appreciate very warmly the pronouncements made by ministers of other parts of the Commonwealth. The indications which have been given from time to time, in some cases as recently as yesterday, of their sympathy with our patient efforts in the cause of peace and their attitude in the unhappy event of those efforts proving unsuccessful, are a source of profound encouragement to us."

HOUSE UNANIMOUS
Indication of the unanimity of the House was seen when Arthur Greenwood, in the name of the Labor Opposition, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, for the Liberal party, pledged their support to the Government's firm policy against aggression in Eastern Europe.

"I withdraw nothing of what I have said in relation of those (the Government's) policies, but we are facing a tragic situation," Mr. Greenwood said. "I do not, therefore, in this time of crisis, propose to rake over the memories of the days behind us."

"Although the clouds are dark, if any steps can be taken to make constructive proposals, I hope they will be taken," Mr. Greenwood added. "I hope we can convince the German people that we are fundamentally a reasonable nation and if there are legitimate grievances it is not beyond the limit of the wit of man to remove them without resort to violence, and I would urge the Government therefore to take every possible step to avert the disaster, so that it shall not be said, if the worst should happen, that Britain was in any way responsible for the tragedy."

BEAR NO HOSTILITY
"Finally, let me say we bear no hostility to the German people. British labor has, on occasions, sent messages to the German people so far as we have been able to. War would be disastrous to them, as it would be to us. Civilization would reel back to barbarism, and victor and vanquished alike would be crushed under the ruins, and it is this tragedy that we ought earnestly to seek to avoid, not for ourselves alone, but for the future of the human race."

"Today Britain speaks through various voices. I think we should like it to be known that Britain will tread the path of peace with other nations on the best possible basis, and that settlement of outstanding questions of all kinds, but that Britain will not march with an aggressor and law-breaker."

PERILS OF WAR
He set the mood of the speech early by declaring "The international position has steadily deteriorated until today we find ourselves confronted with the imminent peril of war."

Speaking in a grim voice and reading most of the time from the draft of his speech, the Prime Minister condemned the German press for its violent anti-Polish campaign and for publishing "circumstantial accounts of alleged ill-treatment of Germans living in Poland."

The House cheered Mr. Chamberlain's observation that these newspaper accounts "bear a strong resemblance to similar allegations which were made last year in respect to the Sudeten Germans living in Czechoslovakia."

The Prime Minister described the German-Russian non-aggression pact as "a surprise of a very unpleasant character" but he refused to "pass any final judgment" on the Russian action at present.

STAND BY PROMISE
Time and again Mr. Chamberlain emphasized Britain's determination to stand by her promise to fight for Poland if Poland goes to war to defend herself against Germany.

He went out of his way to explain that while the British-Polish mutual defence treaty has not yet been signed this does not "add to or subtract from the obligations of mutual assistance which have already been accepted."

Britain's determination to support Poland was underscored again to-night by Lord Halifax in his worldwide radio address.

Lord Halifax said he earnestly prayed that today's peace appeals by President Roosevelt and Pope King of the Belgians might "find a response in the hearts of men."

He said that if Germany has the Soviet-German pact implied Sir Archibald said, that "it is to the British Empire rather than look for his territorial living space."

Parliament adjourned until next Thursday, but Mr. Chamberlain told it significantly: "I sincerely hope members will hold themselves in readiness so that at quite short notice which I anticipate is extremely likely the House may be asked to meet before the date mentioned in the (adjournment) motion."

FRANCE FEARS WORST
PARIS, Aug. 24.—France rushed defence preparations tonight, fearing the worst might come at any moment. Officials told all in Paris whose presence was "not absolutely indispensable," to depart. The United States embassy advised Americans to leave France, and many were doing so.

Diplomatic circles reported communications with Poland had been disrupted since 5 p.m. (11 a.m. M.S.T.).

"The Associated Press in London, however, re-established communications with the Polish capital after several hours of interrupted service."

Calling up of reservists proceeded rapidly. Vehicles of all sorts were commandeered. Emergency patrols guarded "danger areas" and a Union Government, embracing all save perhaps the Communists, was projected.

The Government took control of all private factories manufacturing war materials. Employees on vacation were ordered back to work. The munitions plants they were under Government orders.

Hopes that war could be avoided still were expressed, but pessimism predominated. Official quarters felt the only safe policy was to count on the worst.

Five classes of reservists came from all parts of the country to concentration centres. Tonight, the calling of three more classes would make the mobilization complete.

TROOPS ON MOVE
Latest available estimates were that some 2,000,000 men were under arms in France and French territory. Troops in the south were moving in large numbers to the Italian border. The Maginot Line, opposite Germany, has long been fully manned.

Sausage balloons were in the air on the French side of the German frontier zone. From New East to the Italian border along the Riviera, squads of black Senegalese sharpshooters guarded the coast, bridges and other vital points.

Thousands of French families already had left the capital and found quarters in small towns and villages away from military objectives. An organized large-scale exodus from Paris was planned in case war breaks out. Plans for accommodation of the refugees by means of special trains were completed months ago.

Premier Daladier announced he would make a broadcast to the nation tomorrow night. The hour for it had not been set.

The situation was viewed as so acute that street lights in Paris and other big cities were equipped with weak bulbs to diminish visibility from the air.

Although the normal staff was still in its place at the German embassy in Paris, it was learned the Countess Von Welczek, wife of the ambassador, had returned to Berlin.

WILL STAND WITH POLAND

"We have built up a society of values accepted not only in this country but in many other parts of the world," he said.

The Foreign Secretary concluded with a fervent plea for peace, expressing hope that "reason may yet prevail." Whatever may come, he said, Great Britain has determined to struggle to the end to "preserve the place of honorable freedom in the world."

TEXT OF SPEECH
The following is the text of the speech broadcast by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax tonight.

It may be helpful if I say a few words about international developments which have led to the recall of Parliament. The strained situation that exists between Germany and Poland began with claims and grievances expressed by Germany in regard to Danzig and that Polish province which is usually called the Polish Corridor.

The tension thus produced has been increased by mutual recriminations about the treatment of minorities. Every country, of course, be concerned to secure just treatment for minorities and must naturally feel a particular interest in the minorities allied to it by race.

No one in this country would wish to see a situation develop under which such treatment was denied to any minority section. But if complaints exist let them not be so worked up as to make any settlement hundreds of times more difficult, let them be fairly brought to cool examination before the public opinion of the world.

TECHNIQUE IS SAME
It is impossible to ignore the fact that accusations against Poland bear strong resemblance to accusations made last year against Czechoslovakia, and that it is right to remember that there is a large Polish Government to complain. Of the general attitude of Poland it must be said that in the face of the campaign which appears to threaten not only the independence of Poland but also the declarations of Polish leaders have been firm, but quite unprovoked.

I am confident that they have been and are at all times ready to discuss the differences between them and Germany, if they could be reasonably certain that the discussion would take place under free conditions, without the menace of force and with the assurance that the results of the discussion would be loyally and permanently observed.

We may ask then why these questions cannot be settled by friendly discussion between Germany and Poland. They gave little trouble until the German-Polish agreement.

TECHNOCRACY PRESENTS
Mrs. E. Joberg, 80 E. Hall, Friday, August 25, 8 p.m., 25c.

signed in 1934 was suddenly brought to an end by Germany last April.

THE DEEPER CAUSES
The problem itself, therefore, ought not to be incapable of settlement. The real difficulty springs from much deeper causes. The life of all nations depends in the last resort on the mutual respect of one for another's rights, and the reasonable confidence that they can live their life in their own way, provided they do not interfere with their neighbors' right to do the same.

Throughout their history the British people have always felt bound to oppose attempts by one power to dominate Europe at the expense of others. Therefore after the events of the earlier part of this year which had shaken all confidence, we tried to make it clear by word and deed that we were prepared to assist those countries which felt their independence immediately threatened and were ready to defend their freedom.

HITLER CONFERS WITH HIS STAFF

"renouveau" of Danzig by Polish troops.

2. Germany will not declare war upon Poland. It will merely organize a punitive expedition to Poland to "establish law and order." One of the places that must be guarded from lawlessness, above all others, is Upper Silesia with its rich zinc, iron, copper and coal deposits. To safeguard these deposits the "police action" in Silesia must be so fast that the Poles won't have time to blow up or dynamite the mines.

3. After Chamberlain's speech the Fuehrer and his advisers are more convinced than ever that the British and French will not fight.

Accordingly, when the thirty German newspapermen still left in London urgently asked for instructions what to do, they were curtly told they must stick to their posts as there was no danger involved for them.

Also, German ships are arriving and leaving as though nothing were in the offing. There is an indulgent smile in Berlin for the anxiety of the Italians in not letting their big ocean liners leave their ports at this time.

ON POLISH BORDER

From a military point of view, the entire emphasis is laid upon measures on the Polish border. There is no serious thought of any possibility of trouble from the west.

4. Preparations are going on as usual for the Tannenberg celebration next Sunday in East Prussia.

This is done in the firm conviction that the "police action" will have been completed in time for the celebration to be held in perfect peace.

5. In order that Danzig, while awaiting deliverance from Polish "oppression," may not be unprotected, the armored cruiser Schleswig-Holstein will arrive in Danzig today at 8 a.m. (11 p.m. P.S.T., Thursday).

This cruiser carries four twenty-eight-centimeter and ten fifteen-centimeter guns. It is thus more than a match for the Polish fortress of Hel.

Also, with its 13,000 tons, it has bigger tonnage—according to the German belief—than the whole Polish fleet put together.

In other words, as Danzig has not had time to build her own fortress, she will have a swimming fortress equal to anything the Poles may possess.

Such was the picture at midnight. What nobody could answer was: Just when will Adolf Hitler press the button for the "police action" in Poland?

And yet another question which nobody, not even Hitler, could answer was: What will the Poles do? And finally: What will Britain and France do?

Hitler flew suddenly to the capital last night for his vital showdown talks.

REPORT PLANES SHOT

The most ominous news of the day, from certain points of view, was that from Danzig.

There a new position, that of "Head of State," was created, and Hitler trusted lieutenant and gaudier (disturbance) leader, Albert Forster, was designated as the city's new chief executive.

These quarters further asserted that the Soviet Premier, Vyacheslav Molotov, was putting pressure upon Beck and the Polish Government.

With one accord, Berlin's press interpreted the fact with Moscow to mean "political rearrangement of Eastern Europe." It intimated that Von Ribbentrop and Molotov had reached a far-reaching agreement as to how Eastern Europe should be rearranged.

Poland, according to the newspaper Boensenzetting, must "comprehend at last what the bell is tolling."

TECHNOCRACY, INC.
Under the auspices of Technocracy, Inc., Mrs. E. Joberg, Seattle, will lecture in the Sons of England Hall, Broad Street, this evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Joberg will present the scientific findings of Technocracy concerning the social problem of the North American continent.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24 (P)—From the Atlantic to the Pacific, committees, and affiliated producers of Canadian Fisheries Association are prepared to start immediate provision of food supplies for Great Britain in the event of war, it was announced today.

VITAL PRINCIPLES
An adjustment of differences by negotiation and not by force, and respect for the pledged word—these are the principles which seem to us vital for a peaceful and orderly life of nations.

These are things which, if trouble comes, we are concerned to defend. We have never had, and have not today, the remotest intention of attacking Germany. If the German policy could only be directed to restoring European confidence, by willingness to settle differences by negotiation, and was not based on the extent that it seems to be upon a plan of trying to settle differences by force, we would ask nothing better, as we have said more than once, than to work with Germany and help her solve her difficulties and our own all problems in the world that need solution.

But, if misunderstandings between Germany and Great Britain are to be removed, I repeat that there must be some certainty about the future of Europe, and that is why we are obliged to resist attempts to alter the map of Europe by constant appeals to force.

There are some who say that the fate of a European nation is no concern of ours, and that we should not look far beyond our own frontiers. But they forget that in failing to uphold the liberties of others, we run a great risk of betraying the principle of liberty itself, and with it our own freedom and independence.

SOCIETY OF VALUES
We have built up a society of values accepted not only in this country, but in many other parts of the world.

If we stand idly by and see these values set at naught, the security of all those things in which life itself depends is undermined. I have no doubt that those with whom rests the issue of peace and war will measure their responsibilities to present the future generations before precipitating a struggle, in which many nations of Europe must immediately be involved, and whose duration cannot be foreseen, and by which even those who can stand aside from active participation will be vitally affected.

I earnestly hope that in the face of all the consequences of a resort to force—and before any step is taken which cannot be retraced—reason may yet prevail. Many of you will have been moved as I was by the appeal for peace made by King Leopold after the meeting at Brussels yesterday.

You also will have heard the solemn words uttered to the world by the Pope tonight. You will have read, too, the message sent today by President Roosevelt to the King

This seemed to indicate Hitler wants this man to be in full command during the days immediately ahead.

The second piece of sensational news from Danzig was a series of official DNB (German news agency) reports stating that three commercial planes, flying the German flag, had been shot at by Poles.

And tonight, this official German news agency said Danzig was surrounded by Polish troops and that there was danger of a coup d'etat.

All these things seemed to indicate the "casus belli" might soon be found.

Nevertheless, hope continued for an eleven-hour miracle to save off war.

The miracle performer, in the eyes of German officialdom, might well be Colonel Josef Beck, the Polish Foreign Minister.

Beck, it was thought, might possibly come to Berlin much as President Emil Hacha of Czechoslovakia did last March, and place Poland under Germany's "protection."

These quarters further asserted that the Soviet Premier, Vyacheslav Molotov, was putting pressure upon Beck and the Polish Government.

With one accord, Berlin's press interpreted the fact with Moscow to mean "political rearrangement of Eastern Europe." It intimated that Von Ribbentrop and Molotov had reached a far-reaching agreement as to how Eastern Europe should be rearranged.

Schoolgirls Enjoy Warm Hospitality During Visit Here

Luncheon at Hudson's Bay Company, Visit to Observatory, and Tea With Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart Enjoyable Programme Yesterday

THE close similarity of much in Victoria to that with which they were familiar in England was commented upon by members of the big party of touring British schoolgirls and their attendant teachers yesterday when they had luncheon as the guests of the Hudson's Bay Company, followed by a trip through the Sanich Peninsula, a half-hour visit to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory and tea at "Benvenuto" with Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart. Many further happy impressions were gathered to jot down in the diaries which most of the girls are keeping of their Canadian visit.

With the accompanying teachers and representatives of the social committee of the National Council of Education, Victoria, the sixty-five girls lunched in the small dining-room of the Hudson's Bay Company, with the assistant manager, Mr. A. E. S. Warrington. In the absence, on holiday, of the manager, Mr. A. J. Watson, Mr. Warrington extended the company's greetings, saying that it was a privilege to entertain a group of young people who had traveled such a long way.

Miss A. M. de Putron, headmistress of the Beehive School, Beetham-on-Sea, who has had charge of the party since it left England, in thanking the luncheon hosts and the people of Victoria for their hospitality, referred to the noticeable English atmosphere of Victoria.

Miss M. Shaw, of Cheltenham Ladies' College, "start," and Helen Mayhew, of Benenden School, also expressed the visitors' appreciation. The former said that after attempting to cultivate some Canadian idioms, including "street car" and "elevator," they found in Victoria they could revert to "tram" and "lift." Miss Mayhew, who earlier in the day had climbed Mount Douglas, said the vista of fields and woods beneath was reminiscent of an English scene.

Other speakers at the luncheon were Mrs. Curtis Sampson, convenor; Mrs. L. A. Genge and Miss Agnew, members of the hospitality committee, and Dr. T. A. Rickard, who condensed into a four-minute address some of the outstanding incidents in the history of the Hudson's Bay Company from the time of its inception in 1670 in the reign of Charles II, down to the establishment of Fort Victoria in 1843 by Sir James Douglas.

AT OBSERVATORY Leaving the city at 2:30 p.m. by a fleet of private cars, the visitors were taken to the observatory, where Mr. K. O. Wright and Mr. William Petrie welcomed them in the absence of the director, and gave a brief talk about the seventy-two-inch telescope and the history of the work done at the institution. The dome and the whole mechanism of the telescope were set in motion. Before leaving the observatory the visitors were shown a number of transparencies and photographs of the planets.

At "Benvenuto" the girls made an informal tour of the gardens, still gay with late summer bloom, before gathering on the lawn under the maple tree for tea. This was served from a long flower-decked buffet, with Mrs. McDowell and Miss Fitz Gibbon pouring. After tea everyone went into the house to hear an organ recital by Mr. Leslie Bott, of Brentwood College, the lovely arrangement of flowers in all the reception rooms enhancing the pleasure of the music. Before leaving, Miss de Putron and Nancy Gordon, speaking on behalf of all the guests, thanked Mr. and Mrs. Butchart for their generous hospitality, an expression enthusiastically endorsed when the girls gave three cheers for their host and hostess.

Hilda: "So you made up your quarrel with Tom?"
Doris: "Yes, but only temporarily. We're getting married next month."

Following the tradition of many years, the St. James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., will tomorrow commemorate the departure from Victoria on August 26, 1914, of the first overseas contingent. The observance will take the form of the customary Heather Day in remembrance of the fact that men on that day were presented by members of the chapter with sprigs of heather as they marched down to the ship.

Heather from Fraser's nursery at Duncan will again be sold in the streets, the proceeds to be devoted to the patriotic and educational work of the chapter, which is chiefly for the benefit of dependents of returned soldiers.

Headquarters for the day will be at Terry's Drug Store, and Mrs. R. B. McKimling will again be at her post receiving signatures of the surviving heroes of the historic anniversary.

heads of the German and Polish Governments a truce from any act of hostility "for a reasonable and stipulated period."

RECALLS SLIGHT

To Hitler he recalled that he had not received any reply to the message he sent him in April, but he said: "Because of my confident belief that the cause of world peace—which is the cause of humanity itself—lies above all other considerations, I am again addressing myself to you with the hope that the war which impedes and the consequent disaster to all peoples everywhere may yet be averted."

Mr. Roosevelt told Hitler further: "The people of the United States are as one in their opposition to any military conquest and domination. They are as one in rejecting the thesis that any ruler, or any people, possess the right to achieve their ends or objectives through the taking of action which will plunge countless millions of people into war and which will bring distress and suffering to every nation of the world, belligerent and neutral; when such ends and objectives, so far as they are just and reasonable, can be satisfied through processes of peaceful negotiation or by resort to judicial arbitration."

APPEALS TO ROME

ROME, Aug. 24 (AP).—President Roosevelt's appeal to King Victor Emmanuel to use his influence for a peaceful solution of Europe's crisis was received today with official silence.

There was no immediate indication of the King's reply to the appeal, delivered orally by the United States Ambassador, William Phillips, or whether the King's influence, if exerted, could avert a threatened conflict over Germany's demands upon Poland.

While American quarters emphasized the plea was addressed "solely to the king," it was communicated to Premier Mussolini shortly after he had been in consultation with his military chiefs on war measures. Ambassador Phillips was received in audience by the king. Mussolini's conference with the chiefs of the army, navy, air force and Fascist militia on "military questions" was the first official revelation that Italy may be getting ready for a possible call to arms on the side of her ally, Germany.

READY FOR ACTION

Reports in private circles told of military activity, with the navy in particular reinforced and ready for action.

Foreign observers believed Italy had mobilization plans ready to be issued at a moment's notice.

The war was growing evidence of Italian concern and preparedness. The sailings of two Italian liners from Genoa, the Conte di Savoia and the Augustus, for New York and South America, respectively, were "postponed."

Virgilio Gauda, often the unofficial spokesman of the Government, noted in his newspaper, Il Giornale D'Italia, that a British statement issued by Prime Minister Chamberlain spoke of the possibility of setting in peace all problems if there can be a restoration of confidence.

TOKE IS ALTERED

While tonight's messages contained some identical language, there were passages in each far different in tone. The President reminded Hitler that the latter had not replied to his last peace appeal, transmitted April 14. But, Mr. Roosevelt added, the cause of world peace rises high above all such considerations. Outlining his three-way method for settling the German-Polish dispute, Mr. Roosevelt asked that both the German Fuehrer and the Polish President agree to abstain from any act of hostility for a stipulated period, with the following procedure to be employed:

"The controversy between the Government of Poland and the Government of the German Reich might be made the subject of direct discussion between the two Governments. "Should this prove impossible or not feasible, a second avenue might be that of submission of the issues to arbitration."

"A third method might be consultation through a disinterested third party, in which case it would seem appropriate that the parties avail themselves of the services of one of the traditionally neutral states or a disinterested republic of the Western Hemisphere."

Speaking of his April 14 message to Hitler, the President recalled his statement that it appeared to him "that the leaders of the great nations had it in their power to liberate their people from the disaster that impended, but that unless the effort were immediately made, with good will on all sides to find a peaceful and constructive solution of existing controversies, the crisis which the world was confronting must end in catastrophe."

He added: "Today that catastrophe appears to be very close at hand indeed."

The April 14 message sent to Hitler and to Premier Mussolini of Italy proposed that each pledge himself not to send his armies crashing into independent states for a ten-year period.

Meanwhile, he proposed that questions of access to world markets and raw materials be settled by a world economic conference in which the United States would participate.

President Roosevelt's appeal to Italy's King, it was said here, had been shown beforehand to Mussolini.

It called upon King Victor Emmanuel to exert his influence and that of the Fascist Government to prevent a general war which, the President said, "would clearly bring devastation" to the peoples and perhaps the Governments of the powers concerned.

The appeal was transmitted to William Riney, United States Ambassador to Rome, who took it at once to Premier Mussolini, asking at the same time for an audience with the king. This was arranged.

NO CONSULTATION

Meanwhile, State Secretary Hull read the message to correspondents at the State Department. There had been no prior consultation with any other Government, he said; copies had been sent to American representatives in contiguous countries; no copy was dispatched specifically to the Berlin Government of Adolf Hitler.

By comparison with the President's previous appeals—his communications to Hitler and Mussolini during the Sudeten crisis last September and his messages of last April—today's communication struck most observers as much less vigorous. This, however, was a reminder of the President's repeated statements that the failure of Congress to revise the United States Neutrality Act at the last session had left him without ammunition with which to "fire another shot for peace."

PREMIER CONTINUES HIS AERIAL TOUR

PORT ST. JAMES, B.C., Aug. 24 (AP).—Premier T. D. Pattullo arrived here at 12:30 p.m. today, continuing northward on his aerial tour of Northern British Columbia and the Yukon Territory after a stop of about an hour and a half.

The Premier and his party were entertained at a luncheon by members of the Port St. James Board of Trade.

The party took off again for Port St. John, 175 miles north of here, about 2 p.m.

MAY CEASE PAYING TAX TO FEDERATION

PORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 24 (AP).—The International Typographical Union told the American Federation of Labor today the I.T.U. would pay the A.F.L. no further per capita tax if its delegates at the next A.F.L. convention were not seated.

The union voted unanimously for a resolution on its A.F.L. affiliation, worded to please both independent and progressive factions in the Typographical organization.

"A ROLAND FOR AN OLIVER"

"Not so long ago," said a friend to Mark Twain in the course of swapping whoppers, "I was walking down this very street, when suddenly I heard the racket and clamor of fire engines. Turning the corner I noticed smoke and flames shooting from the tenth floor of this building, with a man at a window gesticulating desperately. The fire engines came to a halt and the hose was unrolled; but to everybody's consternation, it was discovered that there was something wrong with the pressure, just a weak stream of water dripping through the nozzle. Everybody had just about given up hope when, following an impulse, I seized the hose and threw it to the man at the tenth-story window. He caught it and immediately slid it down to safety. 'Believe it?' replied Mark Twain. 'Certainly I believe it. Why,' he concluded, returning a Roland for an Oliver, 'I'm the lucky man who slid down that hose!'

Today's Roland for an Oliver may be a retaliatory witticism; but neither of the two gentlemen to whom this figure of speech is an allusion could be trifled with, and in combat they were far from being a joke.

The original Roland was the chief lieutenant of Charlemagne, and as champion of the Christians fought with the original Oliver of the Saracens or Infidels.

For five days, according to the medieval romances which describe the battle, they struck blow for blow, each delivering as much as he received, the contest, by mutual consent, finally being declared a draw, and the two antagonists, who so matched each other in bravery and skill becoming inseparable friends.

Contributing to the significance of the phrase in the sense of tit for tat, one tall tale deserving another, is the fact that there have come down to us concerning Roland and Oliver some of the most fantastic tales of all, regarding their courage, prowess and physical feats.

HAD A GASEOUS STOMACH AND BACK PAINS BEFORE SHE GOT MOSBY'S TONIC

Mrs. Horner Says She Feels Fine Once Again, Thanks to New, Scientific Medicine. Upset Stomach and Sharp Back Pains Relieved by Mosby's Tonic for This Well-Known Vancouver Lady

Some of the most grateful testimonials ever published endorsing Mosby's Tonic are now appearing, day after day, here in the newspapers of Victoria, praising and endorsing this New, Scientific Medicine, which is now being introduced to crowds daily in this city at the Vancouver Drug Store, Port and Douglas Streets, by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as THE MOSBY TONIC MAN. For instance, just a few days ago, the following statement was received from Mrs. Robert Horner, 2155 East 60th St., Vancouver, B.C. What she has to say about Mosby's Tonic is truly worth reading. Following is her testimonial:

MRS. ROBERT HORNER, of 2155 East 60th St., Vancouver, B.C., writes: "This medicine has stopped these violent headaches I used to have, and another thing, I don't have any more gas in my stomach. I am so happy and feel so much better. I am sure you will be glad to hear of this. I am sure you will be glad to hear of this. I am sure you will be glad to hear of this."

Gaseous, Upset Stomach; Pains Over Kidneys

"I had been suffering a long time from a general rundown condition, which I believe was due to a gaseous stomach disorder and sluggish kidneys," said Mrs. Horner. "I had no appetite to speak of, and my meals would disagree with me. My food seemed to turn sour and ferment, which caused quantities of gas to form inside of my stomach. I couldn't sleep properly at night, and was subject to sharp pains across my back right in the region of my kidneys. When I got up in the mornings I felt like I had no rest at all. I would have dizzy spells very often and everything would seem to turn black in front of me."

Now Says: "Mosby's Tonic Was What I Needed!"

"I became a very discouraged person, but finally I read about Mosby's Tonic in the newspapers and got it and started taking it, and this medicine helped me out to be what I needed all the time. It relieved my upset stomach, and now I can eat and enjoy my meals. I am so happy and feel so much better. I am sure you will be glad to hear of this. I am sure you will be glad to hear of this. I am sure you will be glad to hear of this."

Helps in 5 Ways!

MOSBY'S TONIC is a Compound of 20 ingredients, making it such a widespread medicine that it acts in five different ways: 1. It acts as a powerful laxative, helping to clear the bowels. 2. It acts as a powerful diuretic, helping to clear the kidneys. 3. It acts as a powerful stomachic, helping to clear the stomach. 4. It acts as a powerful tonic, helping to build up the system. 5. It acts as a powerful sedative, helping to calm the nerves.

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as THE MOSBY TONIC MAN, is now at the VANCOUVER DRUG STORE, Port and Douglas Streets, Victoria, daily, meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

PUNCEC SCORES SURPRISE WIN OVER BROMWICH

Large Crowd Sees Brooklyn Defeat Cincinnati Team

Presnell's Pitching Brings Dodgers Through to 4-2 Triumph Before 34,000 Fans—Phillies Beat Cardinals, 6-5—Yankees Trim Browns—Red Sox Lose to Chicago

By The Canadian Press

New York Yankees wasted little of a twelve-hour assault yesterday to pile up an 11-5 American League baseball victory over the Browns and stretch their current winning streak to five straight games.

Powered by home runs by Charlie Keller, Jake Powell and Frankie Crosetti, the attack took up all the slack caused by Monte Pearson's mediocre pitching.

Charlie Gehring, rapping out three singles and a double in five trips to the plate, paced the Detroit Tigers to an 8-1 victory over Washington in the series opener. He batted in two runs, and scored twice himself.

Cleveland Indians came back at the plate with a vengeance, handing Philadelphia Athletics double disaster with 10-2 and 17-3 trouncings in an American League baseball double-header. An eight-hit, ten-run spree in the sixth frame of the night game gave the home team a complete turn-at-bat.

Johnny Rigney won his eighth straight victory, holding Boston's Red Sox to six hits as the White Sox triumphed 3-1 in a night fixture at Chicago.

With the help of Elbie Fletcher's two-run homer in the second inning, big Max Baer chipped up his second straight victory for Pittsburgh Pirates, a six-hitter, to nip the Giants 4-3 in a National League baseball game.

PASSEAU WINS
Claude Passeau won his twelfth baseball game of the season as Chicago Cubs defeated Boston Bees, 6-1, although they made but seven hits off Boston's "Lefty" Joe Sullivan.

Behind Tot Presnell's eight-hit pitching, the Dodgers trounced the league-leading Cincinnati Reds, 4-2. In a night game at Brooklyn before a crowd of more than 34,000 fans, The Dodgers showed their seven hits in the fifth and added their final tally on Al Todd's homer in the sixth.

Virgil "Spud" Davis' double in the sixth, clearing the bases, started a Phillies rally which ended in a 6-5 victory over the Cardinals in a National League game under lights at St. Louis.

Joe Pryke Gets 71 in Match at Banff Golf Club

BANFF SPRINGS HOTEL, Alta., Aug. 24.—A string of five birdies on the first nine by Joe Pryke, professional of the Royal Colwood course in Victoria, B.C., paved the way for a 3-and-2 victory for the tall, smooth-stroking Victoria stylist and his partner, Gordon Richards, of the Broadmoor Club, Seattle, over Dave Black, of Shaughnessy Heights, and Dunc Sutherland, of the Point Grey Club, Vancouver, B.C., in an exhibition match here today.

Pryke, who was three under par with a 33 for the first nine, came home in 38 for an even par of 71. Richards coupled a 36 and 38 for a 74, while Sutherland was in third place with 36-and-76. Dave Black's celebrated putter deserted him except for a few heartening flashes of his better form, and he also found considerable trouble in the trees and in the traps. The Shaughnessy pro, whose son Kenny is reigning Canadian amateur king, posted 41-35-77.

Golf Instruction for Schoolgirls

Girls at the Eothen School, Caterham, England, receive instruction in golf by a well-known professional, Mr. Douglas Brook, who thought of the idea. He is professional at the Caterham Golf Club now, but trained girls at an American University for twelve years. He was training to be a doctor when his studies were interrupted by the Great War, and when it was over he made a business of teaching schoolgirls to play golf.

Registers Biggest Davis Cup Upset of the Year by Scoring 6-2, 8-6, 0-6, 6-2 Decision Over Two-Handed Expert—Quist Takes First Match For Aussies—Doubles Scheduled Today

By JOHN F. CHESTER

Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 24 (AP).

—Ferenc Puncce, sturdy Yugoslav, pulled the Davis Cup upset of the year today by handing a four-set wallop to Australia's top-ranking Jack Bromwich, and keeping his country in the tennis cup chase.

Displaying perhaps the most brilliant tennis seen here this season, Puncce ran up a surprising 6-2, 8-6, 0-6, 6-2 victory.

His teammate, Drago Mitic, had less luck with Australia's Adrian Quist, losing 6-0, 6-4, 6-3 in the opening match.

The outcome of the final inter-continental play for the right to challenge the United States Davis Cup holders thus may rest upon tomorrow's doubles, when Mitic and Franjo Kukuleric play Quist and Bromwich, the newly crowned United States titleholders.

The consensus at Longwood tonight was that only a doubles victory—an upset indeed—could bring the Yugoslavs through the five-match round. On the basis of his play today Mitic would be no match for Bromwich, even though Puncce might come through against Quist.

Puncce not only outdrew but out-generated twenty-year-old Bromwich, five years his junior. Puncce pounded the ball so hard that he ran up twenty-six clean placements in the first two sets, against five for Bromwich.

Puncce obviously threw the third chapter in order to save his strength and gain a ten-minute rest during the intermission. He came back fresh enough to sweep Bromwich off the court.

In the opening match Mitic was no match for the polished Quist.

MAY BEAT QUIST

The consensus at Longwood tonight was that only a doubles victory—an upset indeed—could bring the Yugoslavs through the five-match round. On the basis of his play today Mitic would be no match for Bromwich, even though Puncce might come through against Quist.

Puncce not only outdrew but out-generated twenty-year-old Bromwich, five years his junior. Puncce pounded the ball so hard that he ran up twenty-six clean placements in the first two sets, against five for Bromwich.

Puncce obviously threw the third chapter in order to save his strength and gain a ten-minute rest during the intermission. He came back fresh enough to sweep Bromwich off the court.

In the opening match Mitic was no match for the polished Quist.

Nanaimo and Victoria Clubs
Will Play for Howe's
Perpetual Trophy

Senior boxla teams from Nanaimo and Victoria will play for the Howe's Perpetual Trophy early next month, according to plans drafted at a meeting of the Victoria Box Lacrosse Commission held Wednesday night in the office of W. C. Moreau, K.C., chairman, and attended by club managers and referees.

The draw and playing dates are set as follows:

September 4—Conservatives vs. Spencer's Braves, Nanaimo.
September 7—Alerts vs. Arts Electric, Victoria.
September 9—James Bay vs. Sports Centre, Nanaimo.
September 18—Semi-final at Victoria.

The final will be played Up-Island on a date yet to be arranged.

TONIGHT'S GAMES
Local clubs will continue league play, this evening at the Victoria Sports Centre with the Conservatives opposing Manager Ted Menzies' pace-setting James Bay aggregation in the feature attraction.

The second fixture will be played on September 22, and if a third tussle is necessary it will be played on September 25. The finals will follow immediately with the winning club opposing James Bay.

Juveniles open their semi-finals on Tuesday, August 29, when Owl Drug and McLean's Bakery. Other games are billed for September 1 and 5.

James Bay line-up follows: McKim, A. Chapman, Wallace, E. McKim, C. Chapman, Ball, Rhodes, Bridman, Mason, Clarke, Allan, Winterburn, Doherty, and Bray. Players are asked to be ready for play at 8:15.

English Football Squads to Open Season Saturday

Matches Will Go On as Scheduled, Unless Officials Receive Instructions to Cancel Fixtures Due To International Crisis—Falkirk To Meet Hamilton Academicals

LONDON, Aug. 24 (CP).—Unless the international situation takes a more serious turn, Saturday's opening English Football League programme will be carried out as previously arranged. A Football Association official said today "we are carrying on as usual unless we receive instructions from authorities to cancel matches."

At F.A. headquarters it was said the "matches will take place unless there is war, in which case it is unlikely the Government will allow big gatherings of people." Opening-day crowds are expected to exceed the million mark.

The "national emergency" is booked to take a prominent part in intermission amplified patriotic music and appeals of well-known sports personalities for co-operation in the national effort to "make Britain strong" will be heard. Anti-aircraft firing and air raid precaution drills will be presented.

Goatp around sports row has been centred around gland treatments for footballers, the huge stadia being made by pools promoters, and Bryn Jones, 35,000 Welsh inside-right with Arsenal, who played disappointing soccer for the Gunners last year.

GLAND TREATMENTS
Gland treatment talk started after last year's cup final between two "gland" teams, the victorious Portsmouth eleven and Wolverhampton Wanderers. Clubs demanded an investigation and the F.A. asked the British Medical Association to find out if this type of treatment does any harm in its alleged process of developing super-footballers. Gland specialists now are making clinical tests.

Pool gamblers spent nearly $250,000,000 on forecasts last season and the trades unions have decided to "cut in" on the business. They promoted a $20,000 company to distribute pool coupons to their membership.

Some experts call Jones, who played part of the 1938-39 season with Arsenal's reserve team, "one of the best." Cynical observers said the two-month gland treatment he received before leaving Wolverhampton wasn't enough. The high-priced Jones will have his chance to prove his ability as the season progresses. He will be watched closely when Arsenal goes to Wolverhampton on Saturday in the day's feature match. Except for Jim Guthrie, captain, Portsmouth will field its cup-winning aggregation against the newly-promoted Blackburn Rovers eleven. Guthrie suffered a fractured skull in an automobile crash this summer.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE
GLASGOW, Aug. 24 (CP).—The Scottish Football League season enters its third week Saturday, with only one club, Falkirk, playing 100 per cent soccer. The Brockville Park entry has won three games and holds a one-point margin over the second-place Glasgow Rangers and Motherwell.

Falkirk, scheduled to meet Hamilton Academicals on Saturday, has defeated Clyde, surprise holder of the cup, in two games. They opened the season with a 4-2 verdict over the shipbuilders at Shawfield and repeated with a 4-2 decision on home soil Wednesday. Clyde, incidentally, is the only team in the major circuit without a point.

Rangers and Motherwell, each with two games won and one drawn, are favored to win this week. The light blues play at Ibrox Park against Aberdeen, and Motherwell visits Alloa, promoted to the First Division this year.

Usually a strong starter, Celtic has failed to impress in its three games. The Celts have bowed twice to Aberdeen by 3-1 scores and registered their only victory of the campaign over Hearts. Celtic meets Cowdenbeath this week-end.

Other games bring together Albion Rovers and St. Mirren, Aberdeen and Hibernians, Hearts and Ayr United, Kilmarnock and Third Lanark, and Queen of South and Partick Thistle.

BILLIARD MEETING
A meeting of the Inter-Service Billiard League will be held tomorrow evening at the Army and Navy Veterans at 8 o'clock. All teams are asked to have delegates present as plans will be made for the coming season.

GETS HOLE-IN-ONE
L. S. Topley scored a hole-in-one recently at the Cedar Hill Golf Club while playing with George Bishop when he dropped his tee shot for a "dodo" at the 135-yard fifteenth hole.

Navy second division ball tossers won by default from the Cubs, last night at Oak Bay, when the latter club was unable to field a team.

ANN SHERIDAN IS IN DOMINION FILM

Cast as Social Worker in Warner Bros' Latest, "The Angels Wash Their Faces"

Ann Sheridan, famed as Hollywood's "sophisticated" girl, proves in her latest Warner Bros. film, "The Angels Wash Their Faces," which will open today at the Dominion Theatre, that beauty and ability can't be hidden under a simple wardrobe.

As a social worker in the picture, Ann wears neatly tailored clothes which are not intended to be striking, but are exactly right for her screen character Howard Shoup, who designed them, believes there is a message in them for business girls who work where there are restrictions on gay wardrobes.

"LUCKY NIGHT" IS COMEDY PICTURE
Robert Taylor and Myrna Loy in First Co-starring Film at Atlas Theatre

Although the title of their first co-starring picture, showing today at the Atlas Theatre, is "Lucky Night," Robert Taylor and Myrna Loy ignore all superstitions and kiss thirteen times in it.

A new departure for Taylor, giving him his first real comedy role in his five years as a screen actor, "Lucky Night" permits Miss Loy to tread on familiar ground, for her role is not dissimilar from those she played in the "Thin Man" series, "Libeled Lady," "Double Wedding" and "Too Hot to Handle," a modern American girl cleaning all the fun possible out of life.

EXAMINATIONS TO START SOON

Supplementary Papers in Matriculation Grades Will Be Written on Monday

Commencing next Monday at main centres throughout the province, supplementary examinations in junior and senior matriculation grades will get under way. It was explained yesterday by the British Columbia Department of Education.

The public schools will reopen on Tuesday, September 5, sending upwards of 120,000 students and their teachers back to class rooms for the start of a new school year.

The supplementary examinations in the matriculation grades will be held at Victoria, Vancouver, and other of the chief centres of school population, under the supervision of inspectors of the Department of Education.

A number of students have filed applications to write in the tests, seeking credit standing in subjects they failed to secure pass marks in at the close of the last school year.

TREATING THE PATIENT, NOT THE PEPTIC ULCER

A few years ago there was much controversy between physicians and surgeons as to which was the best treatment for ulcer of the small intestine—peptic ulcer. Physicians were able to show that by resting the stomach as much as possible, by use of soft foods, and preventing formation of too much acid digestive juice, many cures were obtained. Surgeons, on the other hand, advised a new opening from stomach to small intestine.

Recently a physician discussing peptic ulcer with a prominent surgeon, head of a surgical service in a large hospital, was surprised to hear the surgeon say, "I don't operate on as many cases of peptic ulcer as I did some years ago, as you medical men are curing and preventing this condition. Of course, when medical treatment fails, I still operate and also have to operate when an ulcer has healed but has left a mass of scar tissue blocking the passage of food from the stomach to small intestine."

The reason that more cures are being obtained by medicine, and fewer operations are being performed, is that both physicians and surgeons now realize that it is not the ulcer that needs to be treated but the patient himself.

Dr. Joseph Daly, Toronto, in the Canadian Medical Association Journal, states that it is now admitted that no treatment is suitable for all peptic ulcers. "The physician no longer aims to treat the ulcer but to direct the management of the patient who has an ulcer diathesis (predisposition or tendency to ulcer) and the surgeon confines his efforts to correcting the complications that arise during the course of the disease."

That there is a tendency to peptic ulcer in some individuals and families who are of the very nervous or emotional type is shown by the following:

1. Ulcer patients have a tendency to excessive worry.
2. The symptoms disappear or become less when there is a prolonged period of relief from the wear and tear of life.
3. A return to usual work, worry or mistakes in diet brings a return of ulcer symptoms.

When a woman motorist puts out her left hand, it is an almost sure sign that she is about to do something.

Miner Crushed to Death in Shaft

QUESNEL, Aug. 24 (CP)—David Haws, fifty-five-year-old miner, was killed yesterday while employed by the Columbia Tungsten Company in a mine at Hardacre Creek, near Wells, forty miles east of Quesnel, according to word received here today. The report said Haws was apparently crushed under a bolt in a 200-foot shaft.

DEFIANT
Into the court they marched the man. The magistrate looked down at the early prisoner.
"Well," he asked, "guilty or not guilty?"
The prisoner scowled.

SECRETS

Two crack golfers had sliced their balls into the rough. They searched for them a long time without success.
After a quarter of an hour or so, a kindly old lady who had been watching the search came up and spoke to one of them.
"Excuse me," she said, "but would it be cheating if I told you where they are?"

"What is aggravating British nationalists most in Japanese-controlled Chinese cities like Tientsin is the fact that army men are plainly subjecting them to humiliating treatment simply to make them look ridiculous in front of the Chinese. That explains all the unnecessary searching that goes on at busy consular borders. British subjects are searched and frequently stripped without cause, with crowds of Chinese looking on.
"But Japan will have to back

NEW ZEALAND'S WEALTH IS TOLD

R. E. Champtaloup, Automobile Association Manager, Addresses Rotary Club

Some conception of New Zealand's wealth in natural resources, primary and secondary industries, scenic beauty and attractions for tourists was given in motion pictures and verbal descriptions to members of the Rotary Club at luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday by R. E. Champtaloup, touring manager of the Automobile Association, Auckland.

Mr. Champtaloup spent yesterday in Victoria on his way back to New Zealand from a tour of the United States, Europe, Great Britain and Canada.

His motion pictures in full color, screened by D. S. Scott, took Rotarians on a tour of the principal cities, tourist resorts, thermal regions, national parks, mountains and fjords, sheep and cattle stations, and industrial centres of the Southern Dominion.

Mr. Champtaloup referred particularly to the remarkable development within a comparatively short period of years in travel facilities, excellent highways and up-to-date air services, telling of the tremendous engineering difficulties that were overcome in the provision of these amenities.

MAORI VILLAGES
Of particular interest were pictures of the Maori villages and thermal activities at Rotorua, natural "scenery" of the North Island, and of the fine trout streams with which the Dominion abounds.

Films of the industries of New Zealand gave glimpses of wide tracts of pasture land, with their fine herds of cattle and sheep; of the freezing works, where beef is chilled and mutton and Spring lamb frozen for export; of the modern butter and cheese factories, bacon factories, and woolen mills.

Mr. Champtaloup also briefly described some of the many activities of the Automobile Association, one of the largest organizations of its kind in the world, and spoke of the work done by the association's patrols in the schools in instructing the pupils in safety-first principles.

The speaker was introduced by J. G. MacFarlane, and thanked by Walter A. Luney, president.

Business Executive From Tientsin Says Affronts Are Unbearable

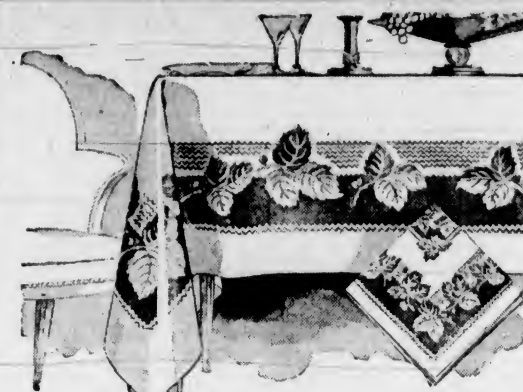

Mistreatment of British and American nationals by Japanese army officials in Japan-controlled Chinese cities is becoming unbearable, said a prominent transportation executive from Tientsin, who arrived here on board the Empress of Canada Wednesday. Engaged in business in China for nearly forty years, the visitor is on temporary leave of absence.

The executive—to give his name would only multiply his problems in Tientsin or prohibit his return—said that he thought the indignation of residents of British and American concessions in Tientsin was near the boiling point. Humiliation was being heaped upon them at every opportunity by Japanese sentries.

He explained that to pass from the Chinese section into another part of Tientsin, it was necessary to submit to scrupulous examination by Japanese army men. If one failed to greet the sentries with obsequious humility, one was usually stripped and searched, and detained at the concession boundary for two hours or so, he stated. The visitor said that he had been detained at a concession barrier for two hours not long before his departure from Tientsin, in spite of the fact that he had showed an official Japanese Army pass to the sentry on duty.

OFFICIALS RESPONSIBLE
"It is the Japanese Army officials, and not the Home Government, who are responsible for these affronts," the Tientsin man explained. "But the army is in complete control of the territory, and officials make no effort to show the slightest courtesy to foreign nationals in conquered territory."

"The real cause of the present trouble is the currency situation," he said. "Japan has devalued the currency of the Chinese National Government contraband, except in Chinese sections of the chief cities. In foreign concessions we are forced to use Japanese Federated Reserve Bank currency, which has absolutely no backing behind it. But in order to buy sterling it is necessary to exchange the worthless Japanese currency back into Chinese money again, and take a 30 per cent loss on the transaction.
"What is aggravating British nationalists most in Japanese-controlled Chinese cities like Tientsin is the fact that army men are plainly subjecting them to humiliating treatment simply to make them look ridiculous in front of the Chinese. That explains all the unnecessary searching that goes on at busy consular borders. British subjects are searched and frequently stripped without cause, with crowds of Chinese looking on.
"But Japan will have to back

MOON STUDIED ON BEACON HILL

Three Telescopes Trained on Lunar Body Wednesday—Final Demonstration Next Wednesday

In spite of adverse seeing conditions, "star gazers" at Beacon Hill Wednesday night had a fairly good observation of the moon and other heavenly bodies. Robert Peters, Miss Phoebe Riddle and A. H. Young were in charge of three large telescopes, and explained the characteristics of the moon to observers. Mars, Jupiter and Saturn were also scheduled for observation, but a cloudy sky made study of them difficult. It was the first demonstration of the season at which seeing conditions were poor. Telescopes will again be mounted on Beacon Hill next Wednesday evening for the last of the Summer's outdoor demonstrations. Providing the sky is clear, the moon and Saturn should be in good position for examination. The former will be at the full.

Last of the Astronomical Society's Summer lectures will be given at Victoria College on Monday evening, when Dr. F. C. Leonard, chairman of the department of astronomy at the University of California, Los Angeles, will discuss meteorites.

The outdoor demonstrations during the month of August have been given under the joint auspices of the Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society and the Tourist line.
